

A Hiking

Last Sunday afternoon, Roger and Lisa went hiking on Lantau Island. They visited the Big Buddha and looked at the beautiful view.

However, they got lost when they went down the hill, they could not see anybody nearby. They wanted to use the Google map to find their way so Lisa took out her phone. But she said, 'Oh no! The GPS is not working!'. They felt frightened.

Then, they saw a bus stop. However, they missed the last bus. They ran to the next bus stop immediately. Unfortunately, they missed the bus again.

In the end, they called a taxi. They could go home at last but the taxi was so expensive. They have learnt to bring a map next time.
