A Bad Day

My family and I went to Happy Farm. The weather was hot and sunny. We brought two bags and a bottle of water. We wore sunglasses and caps.

In the farm, we saw some fruits. My mum took photos for the carrots. My dad wanted to eat the corn. Then I saw two children near the duck pond. They threw stones into the duck pond. I said, 'Stop! Please.' I tried to stop them, but they did not listen. Oh, no! A duck was dead.

Then I called the farm keeper. The keeper was very angry. He came and scolded them. They were sorry and cried. I felt excited and tired.
