Michael and I went to the cinema today. We came to the cinema to watch the film. We looked forward to watch the film 'The Sky Adventure'. We felt excited because the movie was interesting.

Then we went to the counter to buy some food. We had not had our lunch yet and we were hungry. So we bought some popcorn and a hotdog. Michael suggested buying two soft drinks.

The cinema was noisy. There were many people watching the film. The cinema had a full house because all tickets were sold. We enjoyed the delicious food while watching the good film.

After some time, I could feel that something was circling over the popcorn. It was a big, flying cockroach! I screamed loudly. Michael jumped out of his seat.

Finally, a hero came out and killed the cockroach. In fact, the hero was a cinema staff. He came to see us and said sorry to us. Then we continued to watch the film.

I will not come to this cinema again because it was very dirty.
