Hi Liz,

You won't believe what happened to me yesterday.

Yesterday the weather was sunny and warm. My father, mother and I decided to have a picnic in Tai Po Country Park. We prepared some salad, apples, bananas and some bottles of Cola.

We took out some delicious food and drinks and arranged them nicely on the cloth. We sat down under the tree. The environment was very beautiful.

Suddenly, a hungry monkey disturbed us. It wanted to steal some food and drinks. I and my mother felt very scared. My father tried to drive it away. The monkey was not afraid and did not go away. The monkey called the other monkeys. The other monkeys hid in the hill. We took this time to go home quietly and quickly.

Yours,

Erica
